Mini buying guide:

Choosing the right display for your licenses or posters is essential to maintain order and enhance the information displayed.

When it comes to licenses, permits, or advertising graphics, it is important that they are easily visible and well-protected. This wall-mounted book-style display is ideal for those who want a practical solution that allows for frequent document changes without effort. Its 10 anodized aluminum snap frames guarantee strength and durability over time, while the anti-glare PVC protection sheet keeps documents always legible and free from unwanted reflections.

This model is perfect for indoor environments such as public offices, commercial spaces, hotels, travel agencies, or exhibition centers where multiple licenses or pieces of information need to be displayed in an orderly and professional manner. The book-style opening makes document changes simple and fast, without having to disassemble the frames, saving time and effort.

Furthermore, the wall mounting via a linear bar ensures optimal stability, avoiding the risk of falls or accidental movement. Make sure the available space is sufficient by checking the overall dimensions of the display (W 170 x D 79 cm), and that the format of your licenses or posters is compatible (50 x 70 cm). If you need to display documents of different sizes or access the content frequently, this book-style display is the perfect solution.

Also consider the position: being a single-sided model, it is excellent for walls where you want to optimize space, offering an elegant presentation and orderly layout that integrates perfectly into any modern furniture thanks to the silver finish. Finally, consider the frequency of information updates. If you change content often, the book-style system will save you precious time compared to traditional solutions.
