

Emergency bag h648_58

Professional first aid bag in red water-repellent material, 52x21x28 cm. Modular organization with 6 internal pouches and reflective strips.

This professional first aid bag represents an advanced solution for the transport and organization of medical devices in emergency scenarios. Made with a high-resistance water-repellent outer coating, the bag protects the contents from atmospheric agents and mechanical wear. Operational safety is guaranteed by reflective inserts strategically positioned on the lid and zipper sliders, making it easier to identify the operator in low visibility conditions.

The internal organization is designed for maximum efficiency: the main compartment can be divided into five customizable sections through a system of velcro dividers. Six removable modular bags are provided, equipped with transparent lids and labeling windows, which allow for categorized management of supplies and rapid visual identification of the contents during critical rescue phases.
