Portable toilet with fresh water chemical WC h606_01

Portable toilet with chemical WC with seat and fresh water flushing.

Chemical toilet ideal for trade fairs, festivals, concerts and events, with fresh water flushing WC equipped with two completely separate tanks: the one where waste water is conveyed and where the disintegrating agent is housed, and the one (corresponding to the platform) containing fresh water. The water coming from the drain and that coming from the platform below do not come into communication except at the time of flushing, which occurs when the drain is activated (by operating the pedal). In fact, clean water, thanks to a pedal-operated diaphragm pump, is used for rinsing the bowl. This toilet is called a fresh water toilet because the waste water is perfectly separated from the clean water that is reused for rinsing. Portable chemical toilets made of polyethylene with a self-supporting structure. Equipped with a large vent pipe to avoid the stagnation of bad odors, polyethylene hinges to better resist atmospheric agents, a latch with a key and vacant/occupied indicator, and lifting eye bolts to allow for transport in maximum safety. Multiple ventilation windows and a suitably raised base facilitate loading and unloading operations. Chemical toilet material: External box, translucent roof, platform and toilet waste tank in LLDPE, UV-stabilized, produced with rotational molding technology. 100% recyclable.
