In relation to the student's height, the standards aim to encourage the adoption of a correct posture contributing to the psychophysical development of children and young people. Structure composed of three tubular steel elements of 22x1.5 mm, shaped in such a way as to allow stackability. Under the seat, a flat iron crossbar of 20x3 mm is placed in order to make the structure more resistant. The entire shaping of the individual components of the metal structure is carried out cold in order to guarantee maximum resistance and the total absence of "wrinkles"; while, the fixing of one component to another, occurs via continuous wire welding which guarantees maximum tightness and the absence of imperfections, leaving the structure free of defects that could cause damage to people or things. Painting is carried out through the application of epoxy powders, after degreasing and phosphating treatment, and subsequent polymerization in a thermal tunnel at 200°. The seat and backrest are made of 7 mm E1 beech plywood, heat-curved and shaped with an ergonomic form to ensure maximum comfort, naturally painted through the application of non-toxic water-based paints. The fixing of the seat and backrest to the metal structure is done using eight high-strength rivets, four for the back and four for the seat. The chair is equipped with non-removable, noise-reducing and non-slip rubber feet which, even if dragged, leave no trace on the floor.
