

Veterinary X-ray table h930_91

Veterinary radiographic table in steel (160x65 cm) with radiolucent HPL top. Silent and dry-running mobile drawer, 150 kg capacity.

The veterinary X-ray table h930_91 is an essential diagnostic support developed for surgeries, X-ray rooms, and veterinary clinics. Designed as an attachment for performing X-ray examinations, it operationally solves the need to position the animal stably while ensuring perfect image acquisition. Thanks to the 8 mm HPL laminate worktop, totally transparent to radiation, and the solid steel structure equipped with a levelable base, the veterinarian can perform accurate diagnoses in absolute safety. The device integrates a lower mobile drawer intended for housing the radiographic detector. The latter is equipped with a modern system of dry linear guides made of high-performance polymers: a solution that guarantees smooth and silent sliding, totally insensitive to dirt and maintenance-free, reducing stress for the animal and optimizing clinical procedures.

Technical features
