A decorative panel born from the creativity of designers and planners are always attentive to the search for new materials and the use of various artistic techniques and pictorial.

An innovative design that is well suited to a type of modern furniture in shades of black and gold. It 'a product entirely designed and made in Italy. It is MDF panels stacked by hand and decorated with silver leaf. The mdf is nothing more than a derivative of wood consisting essentially of many wood fibers which are first dried and subsequently glued together with special resins, to be finally pressed up to get a heavy material and resistant to moisture even. The silver leaf is an iconic modern methodology of artistic decoration applied to furnishings and, compared to gold leaf, has a naturally aged appearance.
